Environmental ethics seminars with prof. Karl Bruckmeier

Prof. Karl Bruckmeier (University of Lisbon, Free University of Berlin, Stockholm University) will introduce current debates on the relationship of environmental ethics and economics in two 90-minutes informal meetings:

1) Introduction to environmental ethics (October 5)

2) Environmental ethics in economic praxis (October 7)

Individual 30-minutes consultations will be offered to the PhD students regarding their dissertations after each meeting.

October 5 (Monday), 2020 at 15:00

October 7 (Wednesday), 2020 at 10:00

Building A (EF JU), conference room (009)

Seminar for PhD students is opened for all students and academics as well. This is the first series of seminars, which will be followed by another two on similar topics.

Part of the wider Pluralism in economics series.
